Foreign Policy White Paper

(1) South Seas Bully – we carry on as though our [REDACTED] don't stink and treat our neighbours with contempt then cower in front of the world's superpowers. We turfed a [REDACTED] values we had when we went neoliberal!! We need to redraw our foreign policy based on benevolent and humanitarian values.

(2)[a] Asia and the Oceania nations. It's our neighbourhood. Be honest and caring.

(2)[b] Again be honest, our affairs must be open, our dealings with other nations and NGOs must be fair, impartial and display the utmost integrity while, at the same time, stand up for all that is Australian.

(3) We must draw a line in the sand and re-negotiate all of our treaties, so-called free trade agreements and the like.

(4) Our economics is based on neoliberalism which is a tried and failed brand of economics. Economic rationalism has been a failure worldwide many times over and we need to get back to basics. We need a new model of economics based (loosely) on Post-Keynesian philosophy that makes for a caring and sharing economy.

(5) The security of Australian within and without our borders rides on our foreign policy which is underpinned by our honesty and integrity. In short this means that we are caring and sharing and we don't involve ourselves wars that don't concern us.

(6)[a] Our honesty and integrity will be at the forefront with all our negotiations internationally in all matters of interest to Australia.

(6)[b] As above for [a]
